SERVICE WITH A SMILE

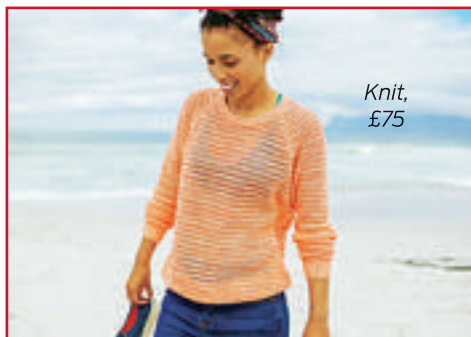

Britons were once known for having the worst teeth in the world, but that's all changing thanks to Invisalign. Its oh-so discreet, state-of-the-art system uses clear aligner trays – rather than braces – to get your chompers straight with minimum fuss. Eva Longoria Bastón [left], Tom Cruise and Justin Bieber are all fans. One of UK's leading orthodontists, Dr Graham Tinkler of Harley Street Dental & Implant Clinic, is responsible for many an A-list smile, and tells me: 'I see it as the nice side of dentistry. It's comfortable, and every time you see the patient they're a little bit happier.' Sold!

Invisalign is priced from £1,995

CAUSE A STERRE

Ethical standards reign supreme at lifestyle brand Finisterre, and their high summer collection is no exception. The range taps into changing styles without losing their ethos of making clothes that last a lifetime, using recycled materials.
